

- The State should actively pursue improving the operating efficiency of the State's major gateways. California should actively pursue the implementation of Intelligent Transportation System applications and should work as a leader, negotiator, broker, and partner to bring about other efficiency improvements.
- The State should provide greater flexibility in the use of State funds.

